

- Panther brand with "ultra-cord" by Dayco features a non-aramid tensile member that can withstand up to 20% higher horsepower loads than previous belts.
- The parabolic tooth profile (grooved) prevents air entrapment resulting in a quieter drive.
- A graphite loaded, self-lubricating nylon fabric facing provides a low coefficient and wear resistance.

- Gates brand (polychain) are the same drive belts used by the Motor Company since 1980 because of their reliability.
- The teeth have a very slick surface that is easy on the pulleys.
- The outer perimeter is ribbed to help improve flexibility and cannot be used with a belt tensioning roller.

To determine belt length with different pulley combinations or custom frames, see 7-110.

NOTE: Due to the numerous variables of misalignment and improper tensioning upon installation, there is no warranty on belts.
